New Email System - Please do not email to OpPaper@aol.com!

We realize that there are thousands of books out there with the old email address on them. We are going to keep checking our old address for troop thank you notes. Everyone else should use the contact page on this web site. It will direct your inquiry to the right person and ensure we respond to you promptly.

New Labels and Letter

Since we have changed the way we handle mail, we have also changed our letter and labels. Please go to the Printing page to get the new labels and letters. Don't panic. It is OK to use old labels you have printed already.

Newsletter Online vs. Email Delivery

Our regular newsletter is only being published online right now. We have received a few emails from folks who miss the old email delivery of our newsletter. Well, we're here to serve... so if you want an emailed copy of the newsletter, please send an email to Andrea, the webmaster. She'll put you on a special list to receive a copy of the newsletter via email.

New Addresses from Iraq

We have received a large number of requests from troops who are currently operating in the Iraq arena. We are confident that our volunteers can have plenty of books heading their way soon.

Volunteers, if you need the latest mailing address, contact us at OpAddresses@usmilitarysupport.org.

Notes from the Troops

All new troop quotes are placed on our quote page now.
